Entry point → Login page → New user, create an account

- YES → Sign up page → User enter email and password → Create account button → Sign up complete mesage → Closed
- NO → back to Login page

User Flow diagram for when user has no account

```
Entry point → Login page → Click on Forgot password.
                  ↑              │
                  │ NO           │ YES
                  └──────────────┘
                                 ↓
                         Password reset page → Enters email and request reset → Reset password email sent
                                                                                         │
                                                                                         ↓
password reset complete ← New password page ← Clicks on reset password Link ← Email INBOX
        │
        ↓
     Closed
```
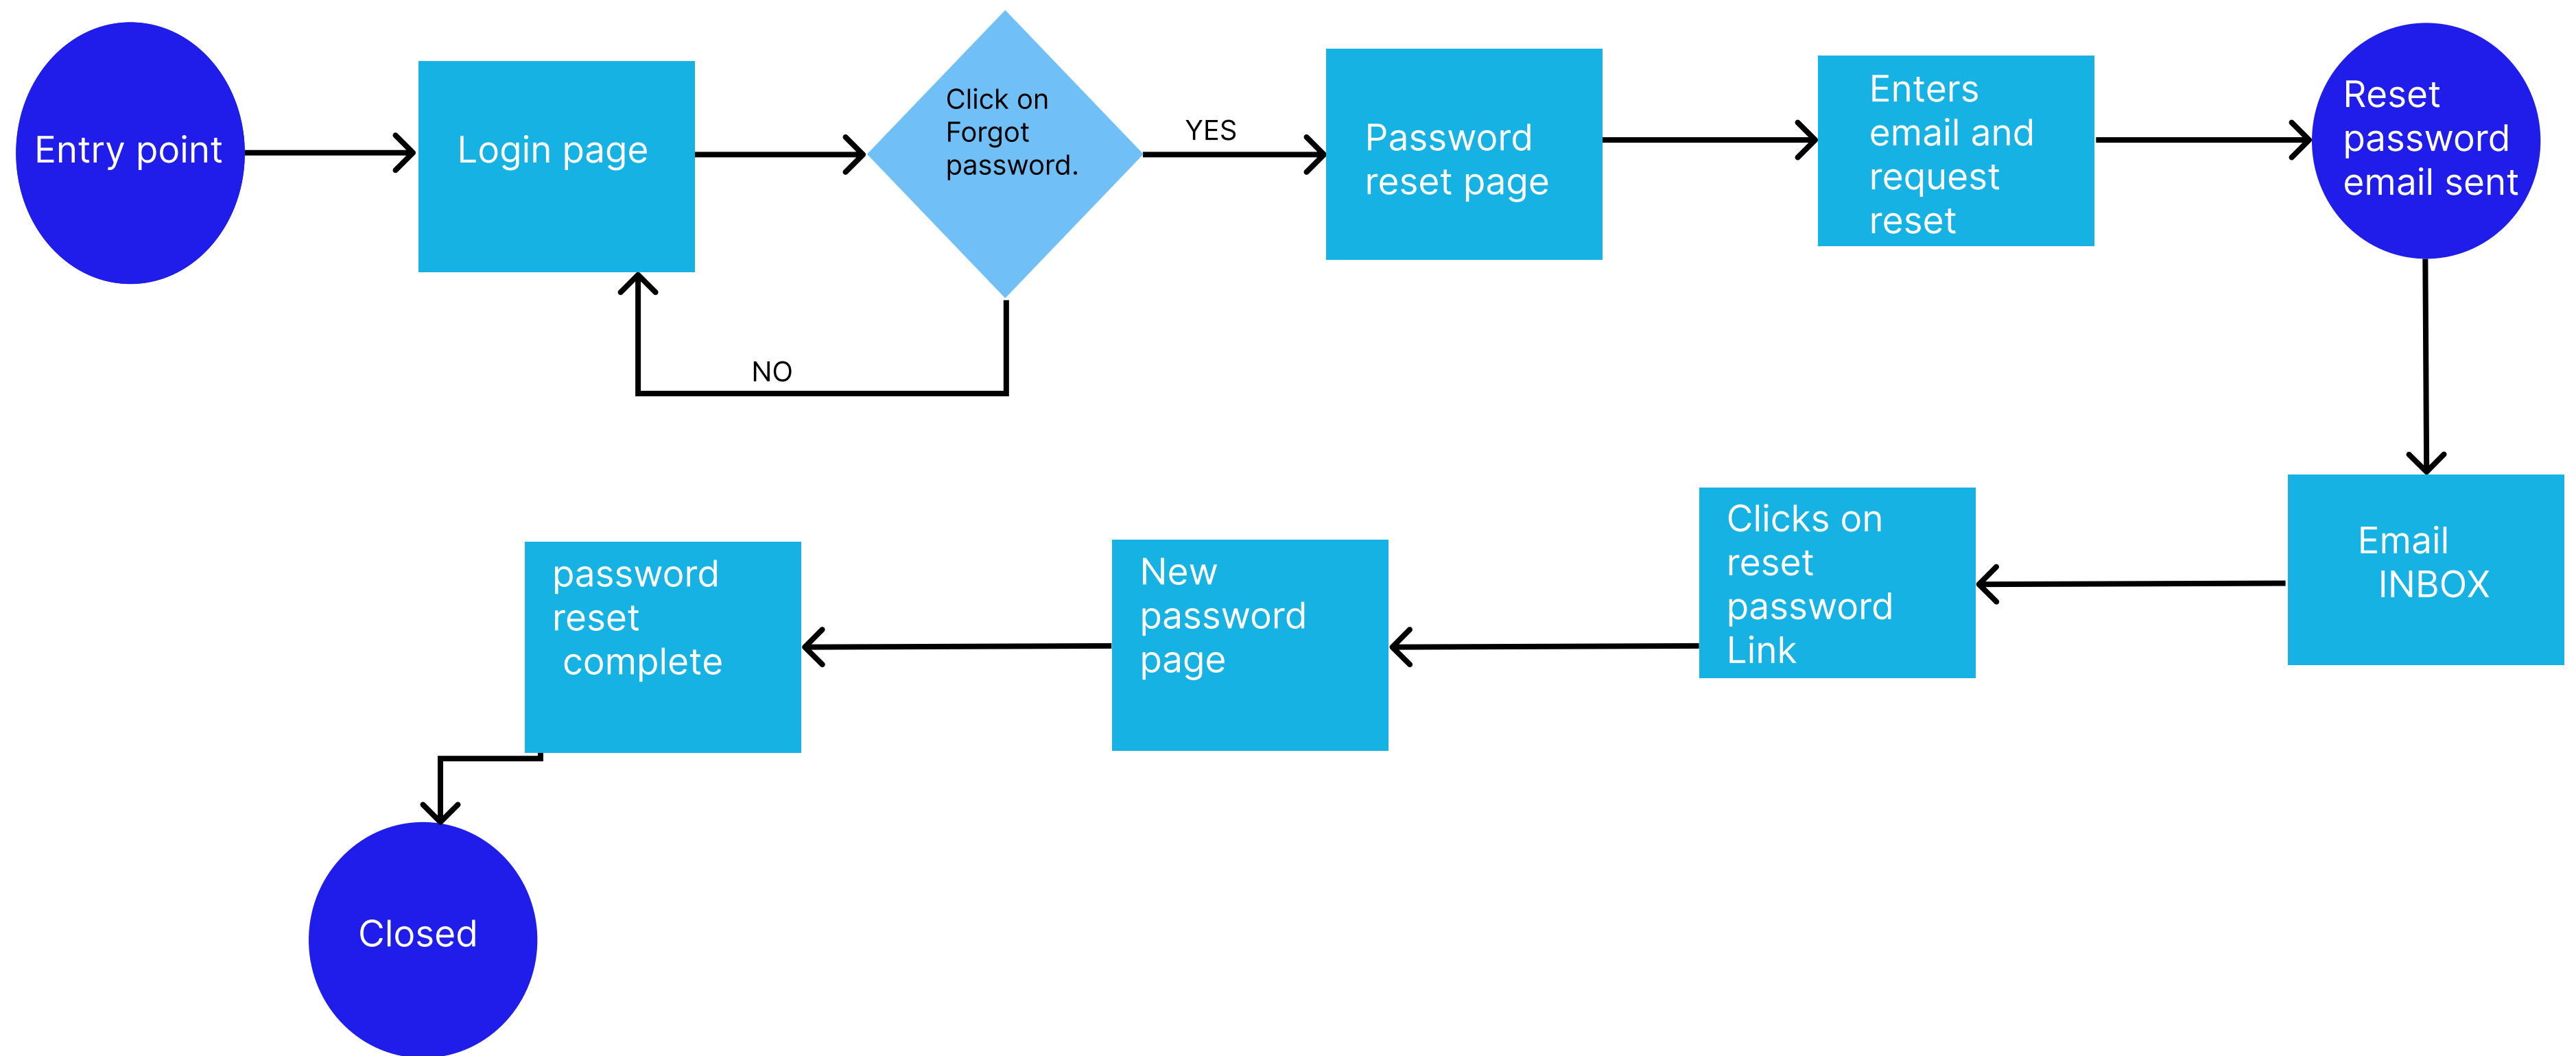

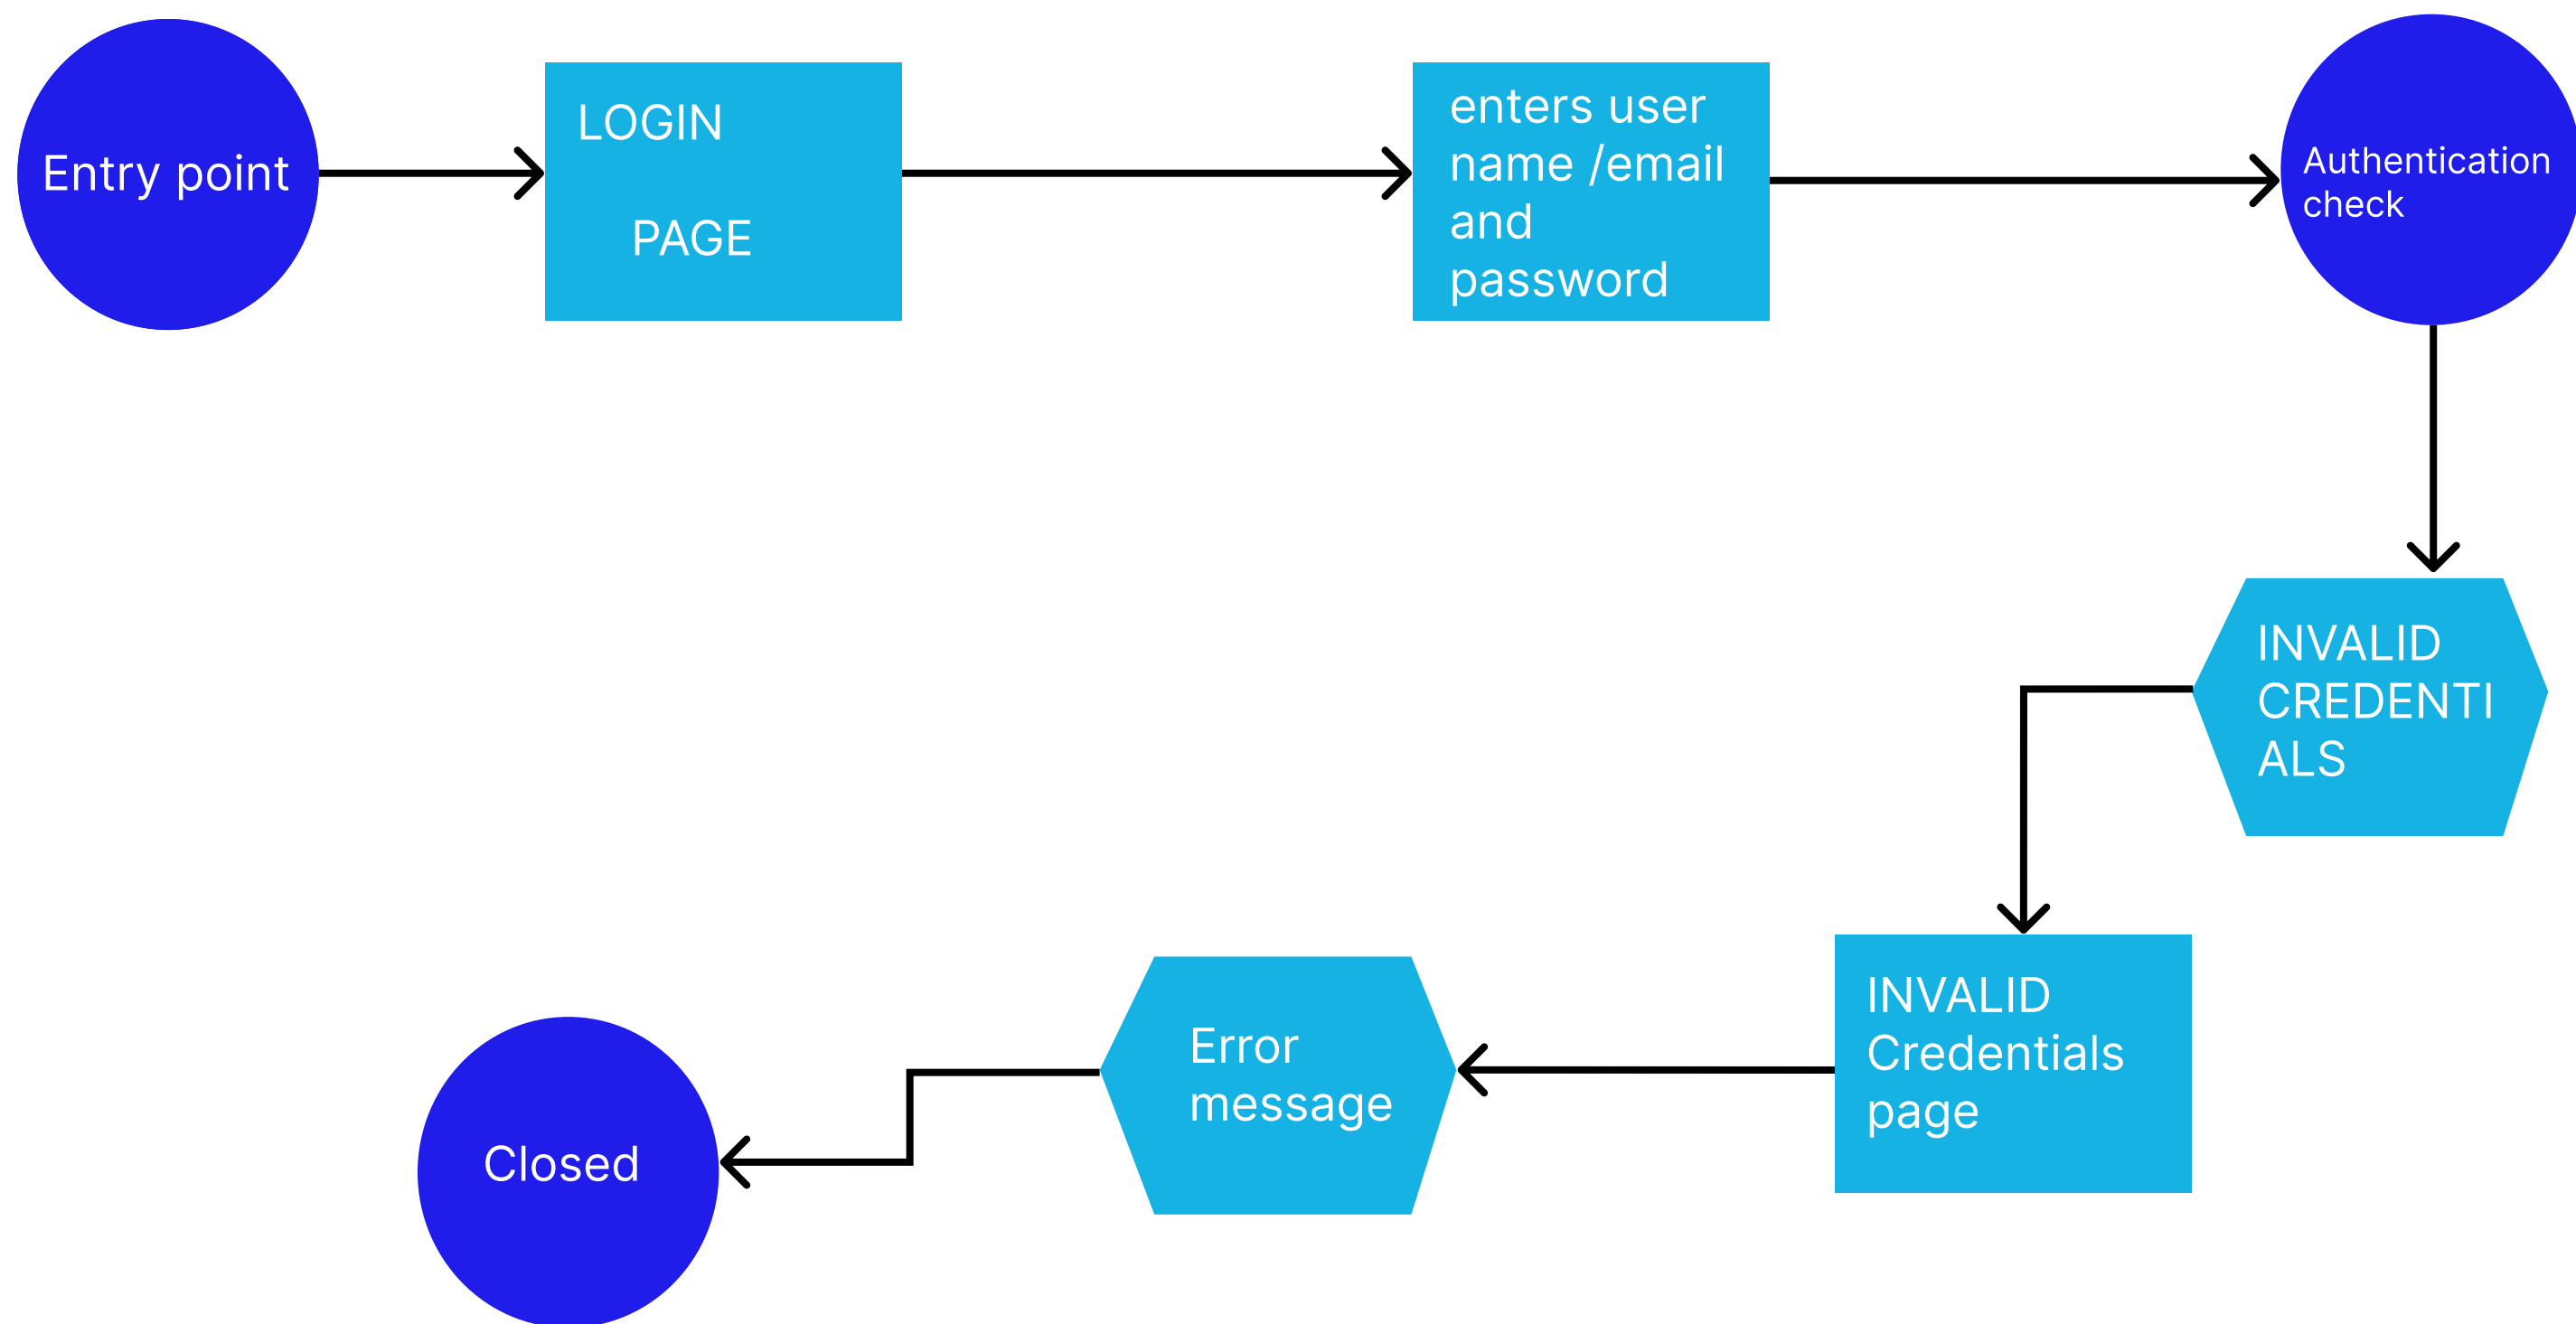

User Flow diagram for when user clicks on Forgot password

User flow diagram when user enters wrong password